

Central Tablelands Water - Open access information not released

Open access information not released by the Central Tablelands Water due to an overriding public interest against disclosure

As the OIC makes decisions about open access information that may not be disclosed due to an overriding public interest, it will publish this information on its website.

Open access information not released due to an overriding public interest against disclosure

Under the Government Information (Public Access) Act 2009 (GIPA Act), when deciding whether or not to release information, government agencies must consider whether there is an overriding public interest against releasing the information.

For more information on how government agencies apply the public interest test when determining whether or not to release information, access a special fact sheet on this topic from the Office of the Information Commissioner website.

The table below includes information Central Tablelands Water has decided not to release based on an overriding public interest against disclosure.

Open access information not released on the basis of an overriding public interest against disclosure
Reference number	Information / topic	Reason for not disclosing information
